Evangeline A. Chang – ESL Teacher

Parents can help with Comprehension skills: Who’s a Good Helper?:

- Review by having your child name some important job people do.
- Begin with telling your child that some people work as helpers.
- Guide your child to read the paragraph below.
- Have your child read the paragraph three times.
- After reading the paragraph 3 times, guide your child to answer the questions .
- Make sure your child writes the words in each blank correctly and neatly on the line.
- Review and assist your child with the correct answers provided at the end of the worksheet.
- Eventually your child will begin to identify the meaning of each word and continue to read fluently with practice.

Please remember that daily practice is important for your child. Thank you for your support.

Read the passage 3 times and put a check mark after you read.

Who’s a Good Helper?

Many people work as helpers.

Firefighters help by putting out fires. They use ladders to get people and pets out of burning buildings.

Coaches help their teams learn how to play sports. The players’ skills get better with the coach’s help.

A swimming coach can teach children and adults to swim better and faster.

Ambulance drivers are helpers. They help people who are sick or hurt. They don't waste time when someone needs their help.

A vet is a doctor for animals. Vets help puppies, kittens and other pets. They take care of animals who are sick or hurt.

Bus drivers help children get to and from school. Pilots fly planes. Their job is to help people travel long distances.

Maybe you're a helper, too. Do you ever help your mom or dad at home? How can you be a helper today?
